

A NEW ZEALAND FANTASY DAY

Conditions were right, the angler was “on” his game, and the fish were feeding – when it happens like that in New Zealand, it is truly a fantasy fly fishing day. Don Nelson is a veteran New Zealand angler who has had many memorable days; however, none may have topped this while fishing with one of NZ’s independent guides. Eleven browns on dry flies with a large fish of 8 pounds. The photos tell the story best.
